Sergt. Guy Brown of the fine National Guard, on his way from Cheraw to the officers' training camp at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., having been recommended for promotion by his colonel, Col. P. K. McCully, stopped over in Newberry a short while on Monday.

His devoted mother, Mrs. A. T. Brown, was not the only one in Newberry who was delighted to see him.

Dr. Harms made the principal address before the graduating class of Jonesville high school last Friday evening, taking for his subject his famous lecture, "The House That Jack Built." Prof. Clemson Wilson is the retiring superintendent of the schools. He has returned to his home in Newberry county and will soon take up his work here as county superintendent of education.

Dr. W. E. Pelham, Jr., Southern railway physician and surgeon, returned last Friday from Jacksonville, Fla., accompanied by Mrs. Pelham, who made the trip with him, the doctor having attended the annual meeting of the Association of Southern Railway surgeons. The meeting was largely attended, the number of doctors present being 370. It was one of the most successful meetings ever held. There were numbers of social features in honor of the representative attendance and Jacksonville was wide open in her hospitality.

Mattie Glasgow, colored, was up before Magistrate C. W. Douglas on Monday morning under the charge of stealing two pairs of spectacles from Eliza Smith, colored. After the stealing Mattie was scouting a crowd Jalapa among her people for two or three weeks, in which neighborhood Constable Henry D. Havard caught her on the third trip, making about 100 miles he had traveled on his rounds during the three trips over the territory.

Mattie pleaded guilty and the magistrate made it $25 or 30 days. Now while Constable Havard was on the trail of the scouting Mattie he also discovered that she would shirk the work that was offered to her after asking for the employment, so the constable worked up evidence against the prisoner as a vagrant, for which she was so charged and to which she pleaded guilty also. Magistrate Douglas imposed a like sentence for that offense. Mattie failed in having anything like $50, so she just had to take the 60 days coming to her.

Mr. W. F. Wright, Jr., a former Newberry boy, later of Laurens and graduate of Clemson college, who since his graduation has been in Schenectady, N. Y., except for a recent while in Pittsfield, Mass., has gone to the Plattsburg training camp at Plattsburg, N. Y., to prepare himself for the service of his country in the United States army. He resigned his position to volunteer as he has had four years of military training and was a second lieutenant of his company at Clemson. Young Wright has the volunteer spirit of his ancestors and did not want any conscription in his. He is a nephew of Messrs. Robert and Haskell Wright and the reporter in Newberry, we are glad to say.

Various and All About.

Glenn Jones forfeited a $1 bond in the recorder's court last Friday for riding a bicycle without light.

We don't care what they do to the grain speculators, just so they do it quickly.—Anderson Mail. We shake your hand on that.

If you visit the opera house today, Tuesday, you will view "The Prison Without Walls" with Myrtle Steadman and Wallace Reid.

Next Monday is the day for the closing exercises of the Newberry high school. Beginning in the afternoon at 5 o'clock.

If the grain gamblers are to go free, why prosecute negroes for shooting craps?—Anderson Mail. That is just what this reporter has been trying to figure out for some time.

Mrs. Frank D. Mowel will have another meeting extending first aid divisions Wednesday at her home at 5 o'clock. Would like to get as many new members as possible.

Consult the opera house program as advertised in this paper. The third episode of "The Crimson Stain Mystery" will be shown today, Tuesday.

Ethel Barrymore will appear in "The White Raven" Wednesday and Jack Pickford in "The Dummy" Thursday.

The Anderson Daily Mail wants to know "what has become of the belled buzzards." Dunk Botts, our Hogwallow correspondent, says he "seed one" the other day.—Pickens Sentinel.

We have several spies out in the old fields of Newberry watching for the next visit of that same old belled buzzard.

At the nice store of Miss Anne O. Ruff & Co., there are to be had some very fine soft drinks, among them being delicious milk shakes of all flavors, cold as ice can make them, as clean as snow flakes before they fall, rich with the purest cream and with sanitary globules sparkling in the beautiful rainbow foam.

Mr. Johnstone is a member of the Columbia bar, a former member of the house of representatives from Richland county and a brilliant speaker.

The State in announcing that Mr. Alan Johnstone, Jr., will deliver the address at the commencement exercises of the academy of the Chicora College for Women in Columbia on Saturday morning, May 26.

Next, a fine band of young people, St. Matthews, Pomaria, S. C., Co. I, $6.53, and the next comes from Mrs. S. J. Derrick's Sunday school class, Church of the Redeemer, Newberry, Co. I, $5.—Rev. R. S. Patterson, general secretary of the board of home missions of the United synod, reporting membership in the "Old Guard" through the Lutheran Church Visitor.

In the list of enlistments for the battalion of engineers now being raised in Columbia we find the name of Mr. J. L. Keitt, Jr. The battalion will be sent to France as soon as it is mustered into federal service and fully equipped. Five hundred men will compose the battalion, the recruits coming from all sections of the State.

In the absence of the Rev. E. V. Babb from the pulpit of the First Baptist church his place was filled on Sunday morning by Prof. James P. Kinard, superintendent of the Newberry schools. We were not present to hear him, but G. L. Robinson says Dr. Kinard gave a very interesting lecture on "How We Got the Bible Printed in English."

Prof. D. R. Riser, who has been superintending the Manning schools of ten teachers, has been elected the head of the Abbeville schools with 18 teachers. The salary is $1,500. All the salaries have been raised in the Abbeville schools. This is well. We like to hear of school teachers having their salaries increased. It is a compliment to their ability and worth, and is nothing but right. We congratulate Prof. Riser and the other teachers.

Benjamin Grenaker arrived from Washington, D. C., Friday night to visit his mother, Mrs. H. N. Grenaker. Before enlisting for service in the First South Carolina regiment—Edgefield cor. The State. He is a son of the late Thomas B. Grenaker, formerly of Newberry, and the nephew of The Herald and News reporter, making the third nephew to enlist for service, with the fourth on the waiting list until old enough. The reporter is proud of his fine, patriotic, loyal and true nephews.

An automobile on the way to Laurens from a trip this side met with an accident near Mr. Sam Shannon's residence Sunday afternoon. The car was running at a rapid rate and couldn't turn the sharp curve at that place. It hit a bank of the roadside and the four occupants were thrown out with a violent and sudden shock, which knocked them senseless. There was no serious consequence, although one of the men was pretty badly hurt. They were from Laurens.

The annual junior-senior banquet by the two leading classes of Newberry college was given at the hotel Savoy on last Friday night. It was as usual fine and enjoyable, as reported by those who were present. After the banquet, a large crowd of the merry making college boys had lots of innocent and wholesome fun in the smaller hours. The present student body is no slow set of boys. What pranks these young fellows can't conceive and execute haven't as yet been originated by the brain of man.

"Men are needed on the Western front by the allies. If Russia remains quiet, and I believe she will, then America must furnish at least 1,500,000." This was the opinion expressed yesterday by J. F. Beatty of Greenville, recently returned to the United States after several months service in the French army ambulance corps.—The State, 20th. Of course those men and probably more will be needed to feed the jaws of death, on the firing lines. "Back from hell," is the way another man expressed it, as quoted in a Sunday newspaper.

The opportunity to smash the food pirates is before congress. How long will it be left to congress. The people of the United States are determined to win this war. The food pirates stand in the way. Will they be removed by congress, in accordance with law, or must the people take the direct course of riot and summary execution? One or the other remedy will be applied soon.—Washington Post. The Herald and News, through its local reporter, was the first newspaper to give expression to such opinions. We are glad that other papers are falling into line so rapidly.

The Barnwell correspondent for the News and Courier reports a patriotic rally held last Friday, at which the speaker of the day was Senator Alan Johnstone, "who held the undivided attention of his audience for an hour. The senator is a fluent speaker," continues the Barnwell correspondent, "and discussed in a most able manner the events leading up to the declaration of a state of war against Germany by the United States," etc. The correspondent concludes his interesting account with the statement that Senator Johnstone "was accorded a warm reception and was frequently applauded throughout his talk."

Recorder Earhardt had two young colored women in his court last Friday on the charge of vagrancy and keeping disorderly house (they lived together). Annie Suber and Hattie Peterson were the names they answered to when the roll was called. Their guilt established, the recorder's decision was: $25 or 30 days apiece. Annie and Hattie are taking the days, as $50 was too much to be raised between them with bacon, flour, sugar and coffee, etc., so high. The two disorderly vagrants have gone where they don't have to buy groceries with their own money.

The tent meeting which has been held in High Point was to have closed Sunday night, and was so announced, but after several requests it was decided to continue the meeting until next Sunday night. We would just like to add that it would be a great deal better for idle curiosity seekers to stay away from the meeting than to be present only to disturb the better element of the congregation with their thoughtlessness and irreverence. All good people should be treated with respect. The public is invited to these services. Speaking at 3 and 8 p. m. daily.

Any one looking at the display window of the Johnson-McCrackin company and seeing Mr. Jesse Mayes clerking in that store would know at a glance that "Jesse" fixed it, because it would at once be remembered how he and his brother Ben used to please the public by arranging the windows of the late J. T. Mayes company's store in attractive and drawing styles. The inviting window at the Johnson-McCrackin company's store is a good advertisement, ranking with the display and taking column of The Herald and News.

The Spartanburg Herald is coming our way when it says: "It would not be surprising if food riots soon become general in the large cities of the United States, unless the government does something to restrain the speculation that is levying millions in tribute upon the poor in the cities every week." The Herald, after expressing the opinion that "there is no excuse for the food prices that are demanded in America today," quotes from the Washington Post expressions of which the following is a sample: "The crisis will not permit delay. Either the food situation will be corrected by law or the people will correct it without law."

The address by Dr. Kinard dealt with school conditions and curriculum, with suggestions as to how the work of the school the State could be improved.—Honea Path cor. in account of the closing exercises of the graded school, "in the presence of a large and appreciative audience." The correspondent adds: "The school, under the management of Prof. J. B. Bushardt, has been prosperous and efficient." Prof. Bushardt and all the teachers were re-elected. He and four of the teachers have accepted the positions, but five have not, among the latter being Miss Irene Workman.

Two young white women, claiming to be from Clinton, spent a couple of days in Newberry last week. As they seemed to be loafers and idlers with vagrant ways, Chief Ed L. Rodelberger issued orders to have their departure perfected without further delay. In these strenuous times when people are doing all they can for a hard living, Chief Rodelberger can't stand to have anybody around except those who work for an honest livelihood. Others don't appeal to him. Our chief has a head of his own and does what he thinks is right on all occasions, regardless of what any one else may say or think. The young women left last Friday on the up C. N. & L. train.

The court of common pleas entered upon its second week on Monday, after having disposed of only one case, that of W. J. Hentz for the third time against the Parr Shoals company in a damage suit for $20,000. The jury had not returned a verdict at our hour of going to press last Thursday afternoon. Since which time the jury reported a mistrial, making the second mistrial in this case, the second trial having resulted in a verdict for $2,500 in favor of the plaintiff. The next case taken up was that of W. H. Suber, who is asking damages against the Parr Shoals company in the sum of $5,000. The court is still engaged in this case.

While Miss Sarah Rawl was in Atlanta recently she arranged for the shipment of a Mason and Hamlin grand piano to Newberry for use by her music pupils at a public recital which is to be given at the opera house. The date will be announced in time. The piano has arrived and is now in position. The instrument is an exact duplicate of the one used in the grand opera in Atlanta, while Miss Rawl was present. To hear music from this grand piano would be an inducement to attend the recital, not to mention that Miss Rawl, who is an excellent pianist, has some very bright and apt pupils in her class, who will give a fine and enjoyable entertainment. Look for it.
